12. BRONX VOICE. October 30 - November 5, 2019

www.bronxvoice.com

By Joan Brown, RN, VNSNY CHOICE Health Plans

According to the American Diabetes Association, one in four Americans age 65+ now lives with diabetes-that makes it more important now than ever to find ways to bridge the gap in diabetes control.

one-third of our pa- know that every day tients have diabetes people with type 2 in addition to their diabetes are warned primary diagnosis," by their doctors to says Yael Reich, a monitor their diet nurse diabetes spe- and stay active in orcialist with the Vis- der to control blood iting Nurse Service sugar and maintain of New York (VN- their health. We SNY) who advises know too how diffinurses on how to cult it can be when age their glucose they get home, the our nurses are treat- stocked with proon any given day."

tes educator with neighborhood; and a well: VNSNY CHOICE regular fitness rou-Health Plans, my tine is one of those

"Approximately colleagues and I things they just never seem to get to.

Helping people better manage their diabetes and supporting them when lifestyle changes are needed is one of the most important things I do as a registered nurse and vegetables to the use fat, olive oil can care coordinator. We help patients and they walk out the have conversations health plan members office door to follow every single day with diabetes man- the advice. When about how to apply "doctor's orders" at levels. "This means kitchen shelves are home and keep diabetes under control ing thousands of pa- cessed foods, white for those who are at created equal. Green tients with diabetes rice and sugary ce- risk or coping with means "go" for cer- items such as orange reals; it's difficult to the disease. These As a registered find fresh or afford- strategies may be nurse and diabe- able produce in their helpful for you as

Shop Smart

You've heard it before, but when shopping and planning meals for yourself or a loved one with diabetes it's important to remember:

- * Eliminate refined sugar.
- diet. If you can't be a great substitute get fresh, frozen is usually better than like butter. canned (check labels for sugars and sodi- avoid sodas
- tain fruits: greenish juice or hard candy bananas have less on hand at all times sugar than deep yel- in case of an emerapples are better sugar. than red ones. Avoid grapes and raisins, which are high in sugar.

- * Stay away from white flour; choose brown rice whole-wheat pasta instead.
- * Avoid salt and fat * Add fruits and in cooking; if you do for less healthy fats
 - * Limit juices and
- * Control portions * Not all fruits are and don't skip meals.
- * Have sugary low ones, and green gency dip in blood

CONTINUED ON PAGE 18

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 12 Focus on What You CAH Have

As a caregiver for someone with diabetes, you can limit your role as naysayer by involving your loved one in mealtime decisions and preparation. Remind them what they can have in addition to what they cannot. Offer meals that are roasted or sautéed in olive or canola oil rather than fried. Think spices rather than salt or sugary

For filling, healthy alternative dish, try legumeslentils, is high in carbohyplenty of diabetes-focused of helpful tips like sized" candy bar.

these. Begin with the simplest one to avoid being overwhelmed.

Meanwhile, don't underestimate the power of reward. With portion conchickpeas, trol and safety in beans- rather than mind, someone with white rice, which diabetes (and their caregiver!) can indrates. There are dulge in a small treat now and then-say, cook- to celebrate a good books that are full week. Think "fun-

You may find, as our nurses often do, that once the good feeling of healthy eating takes hold, a couple bites of a sweet go a long way.

Steps in the Right Direction

The directive "Get plenty of exercise" can worry older people living with diabetes if it conjures up images of long jogging excursions or lifting weights at the gym. Instead, exercise can be part of daily life. A walk in the park or to the pharmacy or a stroll through the apartment hallways to get the mail all count! When riding the bus, get off a stop early and walk the extra few blocks home. Take the stairs instead of the elevator, at least for a flight or two. Exercise can even happen in front of the television, with a series of leg lifts or arm circles done right in your chair.

Head to Toe Care

Diabetes is a system- of New York.

the whole body. Pay careful attention to vision, as diabetes-related damage to delicate blood vessels in the eye can cause problems. When caring for someone with diabetes, communicate often about how well they are seeing. And be observant: if your loved one used to read the paper every day but now leaves it untouched, ask about their vision, and follow up with a doctor if necessary.

Solutions for healthier living truly begin at home-speak with a health professional if you have questions or concerns about your risk for diabetes. With the right home care support, the tools for managing your blood glucose levels are within easy reach.

To learn more about health plans that help elder New Yorkers live more comfortably, safely and independently in their own homes, please visit www. VNSNYCHOICE. org or call 1-855-AT CHOICE (1-855-282-4642). VNSNY CHOICE is affiliated with the not-for-profit Visiting Nurse Service