

Health Pulse at a Glance: SENIOR CARE

Jacqueline Neber, December 19, 2022

SENIOR CARE: VNS Health, formerly the Visiting Nurse Service of New York, has entered into a referral agreement with NYC Aging (formerly New York City's Department for the Aging) to provide personal care services to more than 700 seniors throughout Brooklyn beginning in 2023. Services will be offered through the city agency's home care program, which provides non-medical care to independent seniors living at home who need some help with activities of daily living.
